Before the holidays a Taiwanese traditional puppet master came and made a show for the kindergarden children.

Avant les vacances un maître de marionnettes traditionnelles taiwanaises est venu proposer un spectacle pour les petits de maternelle.

Marionnettes en PS-MS Puppets in PS-MS

Les enfants ont adoré faire connaissance avec les marionnettes comme les dieux, les fantômes, les belles jeunes femmes et les méchants.

The PS and MS children really enjoyed the show. They discovered the characters of the nasty one, the ghost, the gods and the beautiful woman.

Les enfants ont adoré regarder le maître manipuler les marionnettes avec dextérité et ils ont été encore plus contents de pouvoir manipuler eux-mêmes les marionnettes.

The children loved to see the master move the puppets with dexterity but they enjoyed a lot to handle the puppets themselves. It was a fabulous experience for the children.

The master spoke in Chinese with the children, and it was a way for the French school to introduce a typical part of the local culture to the kids.

Le maître s'est exprimé en chinois avec les enfants. Cette activité a permis de présenter un aspect de la culture

Dear Parents

This is the first newsletter that I have written this year—thank you to Mr Lewis for writing in my absence.

It is so good being back in school with nothing to take me away until the Easter holiday. Over the next six weeks, I will be going into all the classes to read the children stories, as well as listening to them read and observing how the teachers are teaching with regard to reading. I have been in to a few classes already, and I am extremely impressed with the children's progress. I listened to a group of children only this morning trying to define some of the words they were reading, for example 'frustrated', and it was so interesting. As children read, we assume they understand all the words they are reading, but it is wrong for us to do so. The challenge for you as you read with your children at home is to do the same. Stop at a word you think they may not know the meaning of, and see what they say. It will always lead to an interesting conversation. I once asked a bright Year 2 child what "Europe" was, and he said "an animal" - that took some exploring!

I hope you have all received the letter about our forthcoming Open Week in April—I hope many of you will be able to support the event—it is always interesting for parents to watch their children at work!

Thank you for your continued support regarding the school enforcing the school uniform policy.

Best wishes

Welcome to Reception.

This term we have been very busy learning about different cultures and meeting many people from outside the TES community.

Children's book author Gavin Bishop paid Reception a special visit! He read many stories that take place in his home country of New Zealand.

We celebrated Chinese New Year by watching a professional troupe perform a lion dance!

We visited Cats Kindergarten and learned more about Chinese culture. We participated in many fun activities, such as making rice ball soup, making a spinning top, and having a rice ball fight! It was nice to meet, eat and play with our new friends.

Dear Parents and friends of the school,

Thank you to all of you who were able to attend the Parent/Teacher meetings this week. If you weren't able to make it please remember that you can make an appointment to see any of the teachers at any time during the year.

This is a very busy term so please click on the link on the first page of this newsletter to access the calendar for Term 2. Here is a reminder about all the events planned for the next five weeks in more detail.

ECAs We know that the way ECAs are timetabled cause some confusion for parents and children. Currently the timetable for the ECAs run by the teachers is different from the activities run by Isabelle Rajnfield.. The reason behind this is because there are some weeks when teachers need to be involved in extra meetings however the local teachers, who offer the paid for ECAs, are separate from the school. We are looking for a way to streamline this for the next academic year. Please look at the calendar linked to this newsletter to ensure you know when the ECAs are happening.

22nd February: Bring and Buy Sale Both the space outside the office and Mrs McKelvie's classroom are filling up with the donations for the Sale organised by our Student Council. Children can bring in money to spend at the sale on Tuesday 22nd February. For many parents I know you will have been delighted to rid your home of all those unwanted toys only to have them replaced when your child comes home on Tuesday! If you are bringing in any cakes or biscuits please drop them off in the office.

23rd February: Taipei Athletic City Parade We have been invited to attend this event at which our very own VIP Dr Allan Weston has been invited to speak. Year Six will represent the school showcasing their talent at Scottish Dancing.

24th February: TES Sports Day Children wear their PE kit to school on this day. All parents are invited to attend and events start with a parade at around 8:30am with all activities finishing at around 12:15pm with the presentation of the annual trophy for the winning tribe.

25th February No school: on this day for children. In the morning all staff will be working on preparation for the CIS visit and in the afternoon we will have staff training. (There is also no school on the following Monday as it is a public holiday).

Tuesday 8th March Carnevale: This event is organised by the French Section and supported by the generosity of the PSC. Children dress in costume on this day. Some year groups will have a theme and others will give their class free choice. Please expect a note in your child's Home/Link diary next week about the costume. We will start with a parade at 8:30 followed by some dancing. Children in sections will be mixed together in groups and participate in some fun activities. Parents are invited to watch the parade and dancing and can even join in! This event will take place in the Junior Playground and more information will be sent out next week.

THE TES EXPLORER

“BEST CLASS IN THE SCHOOL?”

By: B6MS, A joint construction

SENSATIONAL CLAIMS

On Tuesday 15th February 2011, B6MS held their class assembly in front of a record crowd at TES Junior School. After a stunning performance, B6MS class members and their teacher caused a storm by making the sensational claim that they are in fact the best class in the school!

PRESS CONFERENCE DRAMA

Actress Yu Ting Chen initially shocked reporters by saying: “Are you looking at me?” She later calmed down, but then made the claim that today’s performance by B6MS was the “greatest assembly of all time!”

COUNTER ARGUMENTS

Annoyed TES teacher Mr. McKelvie and the students of B5CM strongly opposed both claims. B5CM students were overheard saying they were the best school in the class. The press conference reached boiling point when Miss Youn Jee Kang asked the question: “B5CM, who are these guys?” She was later taken away by security after claiming that Mr. McKelvie, ‘couldn’t handle the truth’.

INTERNATIONAL BACKLASH

Mr. Sullivan also claimed that the B6MS assembly was in fact the greatest of all time, which drew attention from international schools worldwide! When questioned, Mr. Sullivan replied: “My inbox reached capacity and was over its limit within minutes.” TES student Benjamin Faure alleged that Mr. Sullivan had a poor memory, in reference to other great assemblies already held at TES this school year.

HANDLING NEW FOUND FAME

Jessica Lee, who played Columbus in the assembly, is considering a move to a bigger stage in 2011, most likely Year 7! Pirate Jakub Bartak was reportedly attempted to sell the now famous parrot, for an amount believed to be 50 NT$. It was later confiscated and returned to its rightful owner, in Year 5!!

Explorers, pirates and the parrot in question

WHAT HAPPENED NEXT?

Mr. Jenkins later released a press statement saying, “watch this space, the best assembly is yet to come!”

Ann's Amazing Adventure

By: Amy Cheng B6CB

Last Week, a well known children's author visited Taipei European School (TES). She shared her book with the school community.

On January 11th, Ann Martin Bowler (Annie) visited Taipei European School. She shared her new book 'The Adventures of the Treasure Fleet' at an entertaining assembly, and several workshops for students and parents.

Annie's Amazing Assembly

In the morning, Ms. Bowler asked Mr. Randell and Mr. Norris, teachers of TES, to act the roles of Chinese King and the explorer from her book. Sound effects were produced by two Year Six students. Some volunteers played ancient instruments while Ms. Bowler was reading her story with the illustrations on the screen. Ms. Bowler then sang a song called, 'To See What They Could See'. Victoria, a Year Six student, said, 'It was a musical, adventurous and fun assembly.'

Book Facts

Later on, Ms. Bowler spoke with Year Six students about the process she went through in writing her book. It was surprising for students to hear that it took her five years to complete. She stated that she wanted to have very factual information in her book. She used diaries from a university library for this. She informed students that when writing a historical book, we should search for more original sources of information in libraries. She pointed out when using the internet there is different information on different websites. She stated, "Use the websites you trust."

Wonderful Writers' Workshop

Ms. Bowler ran a writers' workshop for Year Six students. The students found active sentences in her book. Then they made a simple sentence into a catchy, active sentence.

Ms. Bowler then instructed Year Six students to write about a story they thought of, based on an event they know, someone they know well by including catchy, active sentences. They all wrote about different stories. Claire said, "It is amazing how Ann Bowler told us how she wrote her book."

Thank you Annie

Ms. Bowler enjoyed visiting the Year Six students. Most of them stated that they learned a lot. Ann Bowler hopes she can visit TES in the near future.

Student council News

The TES Student Council would like to continue their fund raising efforts by holding a "buy and sell" sale on Tuesday the 22nd of this month. We would like to encourage students in the Junior School to donate any old or unused items to the sale. Items such as old books, used toys and games, as well as clothing and bags would be ideal. We would also like to include baked items in the sale and would appreciate it if they could be sent to school on the day of the sale. All other items can be left in boxes outside the Junior office or in Mrs McKelvie's classroom. The more we donate, the more fun we will have but more importantly, the more money we raise!

Thank you in advance for your generosity,

The TES student council

Tribe news Congratulations Bunan!

The students in the Junior Section have been working very hard to gain merits for their tribe. The class totals were collated and announced in a very exciting assembly last week. All students were invited to come to school dressed in the colour of their tribe. This created a colourful and thrilling atmosphere for everyone.

We are happy to announce that the leaders so far are the students in Bunan. Congratulations to you!

Two proud students from Bunan collect the trophy!

Chess Competition

This year's chess competition took place over four weeks at the start of this term. 45 children took part from all three sections. Each year group played a separate competition, and the winners of each year group were as follows:

Year 3 Shubh Lashkery (B3JM)

Year 4 Joseph Lin (B4AL)

Year 5 Qi Heng Ng (B5ST)

Year 6 Jun Xiang Soo (B6CB)

The 4 champions then played each other to find the school champion. The final was played in the amphitheatre between Qi Heng and Joseph. Around 50 people watched an enthralling final, which was projected onto the big screen via a webcam. The first game lasted for 40 minutes and ended in a stalemate. The match had to be replayed, so the children and spectators returned at lunchtime to watch two more games, both of which incredibly also ended in stalemate. Both of the finalists were tired after playing three such tense and mentally exhausting games, so they decided to come back after Chinese New Year and play a fourth final. The fourth game was won by Joseph, who cleverly queened his pawn to build an unassailable lead and become the school champion.

I'd like to thank all of the children who took part in this year's competition. All of the participants demonstrated excellent sportsmanship. I was particularly impressed by the skill level of many of the children; the school certainly has some talented chess players! If your child would like to improve their chess strategy, they are welcome to join the school's chess club. The club meets every Wednesday afternoon from 3:00 to 4:15 and is free to join. If any chess-playing mums or dads would like to help out at chess club, please let your child's class teacher know.

Chess Puzzle

One way to improve at chess is to analyse situations that have happened in games and try to find a better move. Here is a situation from the first chess final between Qi Heng and Joseph. In this game Qi Heng had the white pieces and Joseph had the black pieces. It is black to move.

Joseph moved his queen from B8 to B1. Normally, capturing your opponent's queen is a good idea. However, in this situation it led to a stalemate. Can you think of a better move for black? It's possible for black to win in 3 moves. Can you work out what they are? Can black win in fewer moves? If you have an answer, come and let me (Mr Fagg) know.

Dear Parents,

What better way to start the term with a visiting author! We are visited with Mr. Gavin Bishop — a well known children's writer and illustrator from New Zealand. You can find his illustration books now added to our collection.

Our library collects not only books in paper forms, also audio books and DVD! For teachers and parents, you can borrow the DVD for one week. Please pay attention when you choose the DVD, there are Zone 1 (NTSC) and Zone 2 (PAL), some may not be able to play in your machine. Recently, we added quite a few of DVD, mainly in French, but some with the selection of multilingual such as: English, Dutch, Italian, Spanish and Flemish.

Have you notice the increasing quantity (and quality, of course) of books in our library? New French audio books and English/French non-fiction books had just arrived, and many more are coming...

Selected Books

There's an empty notebook lying on the table in the moonlight. It's been there for an age. I keep on saying that I'll write a journal. So I'll start right here, right now. I open the book and write the very first words: My name is Mina and I love the night. Then what shall I write? I can't just write that this happened then this happened then this happened to boring infinitum. I'll let my journal grow just like the mind does, just like a tree or a beast does, just like life does. Why should a book tell a tale in a dull straight line?

Young Montague Mad-Rat isn't taken very seriously when he learns of a plot by humans to turn the piers many rats live on into parking lots. Everything seems against his plans to save the other rats, until he finally realizes lots of things really are in his favor including Isabel Moberly-Rat, his uncle, and his own talent for painting sea-shells.

Sean and Annie have one chance to escape the potato famine in Ireland, and after surviving a shipwreck they land safely in America in search for their father. But their new land is one of hardship and they live in poverty on the streets of Boston. However, their adventure is just beginning. After living aboard a steamboat they then join pioneers traveling across the prairies. Their music and dancing bring joy to all they meet, but their family "torc"—a golden necklace—brings both blessings and curses, and thieves prowl to get hold of it. Annie and Sean must protect their torc as they search for their father: their family's survival depends on it.

Felix is a grandfather. He has achieved much in his life and is widely admired. He has mostly buried the painful memories of his childhood, but they resurface when his granddaughter Zelda comes to stay with him. Together they face a cataclysmic event armed only with their gusto and love – an event that helps them achieve salvation from the past, but also brings the possibility of destruction...

Giving back to the Community

Traditionally a percentage of the money raised at the Christmas Bazaar is donated to a local charity. This year the PSC has donated money to two local charities.

On Monday 14 February Tracy Koong, Chair of the PSC, invited representatives of The Garden of Mercy Foundation and Harmony Home to the EPC so that she could officially present them with the donation from the TES community.

These are two very worthy charities and we encourage you to check out their websites.

Maybe you could consider helping in some way through donations of cash, sponsorship, goods, services or simply offering your time.

Any help you can give would be gratefully received.
